Elise Jane Cox Hendrix, RN, RT(R)

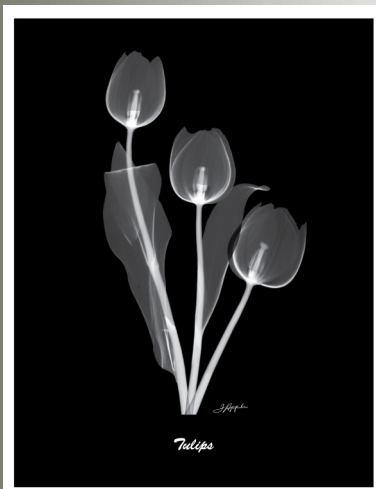

1905-2002

Elise Jane Cox , graduated from nursing school at the Park View School of Nursing in Rocky Mount NC in 1928 where she remained as supervisor until 1941. At age 35 Jane changed careers and entered Duke Hospital Technicians Program in Durham, NC. After graduation in 1943, she remained as a staff technologist until 1947. In 1947 she joined the staff in the physics department of the Women's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Jane began her hobby while teaching a course in x-ray technology, and being a gardener, x-raying flowers was a good way to demonstrate contrast.

Jane needed an exhibit to take to the 1949 National Convention of X-ray Technicians so she showed some of her flower prints that she called "Shadowgraphs". The exhibit won the top award at the convention and national recognition. The jonquil and orchid were selected for display at the 1949 International Photography-in-Science Salon exhibit sponsored by the Smithsonian Museum which then went on a world tour. Her work was on exhibit at the Weatherspoon Gallery in Greensboro, NC. In 1950 she had a one-woman exhibit of 33 pieces at the State Art Gallery in Raleigh, NC.

Jane was active in the North Carolina State Society of Radiologic Technologist. Inc. She served as Secretary/Treasurer in 1946, President in 1948 and 1949, Delegate to the ASRT, ASRT Counselor from North Carolina from 1950 to 1955. She was honored for her dedication to education, professional ethics and her involvement in the NCSRT Inc. with Honorary membership and in 1983 presented the Reeves-Rousseau Memorial Lecture.

In 1959 nursing reclaimed her as Resident Director, Baptist Hospital School of Nursing in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. In 1971 Jane married William Penn Hendrix and retired from professional life.

Jane Cox Hendrix Scholarship History

In 2002 the North Carolina Society of Radiologic Technologists Inc. established a scholarship to honor the memory of Jane Cox Hendrix, RN, RT(R) who passed away. The purpose of the scholarship is to aid either graduate or undergraduate radiologic technology students. Jane Cox received her X-ray training at Duke University Medical Center and was active in the NCSRT, Inc. as President and served as ASRT Counselor to North Carolina. She was employed by the University of North Carolina at Greensboro to teach x-ray physics in the late 40's. While there she experimented with x-raying flowers using a superficial therapy machine. Her Shadowgraphs won national recognition for an individual technical exhibit at

Funding was a problem so Frances decided to Sell Jane's "Shadowgraphs." In 2006 the first scholarships were awarded at the annual meeting of the NCSRT, Inc. In 2007 Frances began x-raying flowers to add to her collection.

Jane's love of her "Shadowgraphs" has passed to her student.
